Kelly Skarda

Kelly leads Allied Business Group's Business Valuation and Litigation Services Department, providing business valuations and other consultative services to clients.

An active member of the American Society of Appraisers and accredited as a Certified Business Appraiser (CBA) through the Institute of Business Appraisers (IBA), she has extensive experience performing valuations in a variety of industries, including wholesale distribution, manufacturing, construction, retail, health care and financial institutions.

Since joining her husband, Tim, at Allied in 2003, Kelly has provided accurate and defensible business valuations by applying the firm's first-hand market knowledge with the most advanced and appropriate business valuation techniques. In addition, she has supported her business valuation reports as expert witnesses in several court cases.

Prior to joining Allied Business Group, Kelly worked in the finance division of a Fortune 500 company where she managed analysts, created business cases and worked on various budgets and forecasts.

Kelly graduated magna cum laude from Kansas State University with a bachelor's degree in finance and obtained her Master of Business Administration in finance from the University of Missouri at Kansas City.
