Pat Trysla

For 20 years, Mr. Trysla has been advising private and public clients in Merger & Acquisition and Corporate Finance transactions. Prior to forming Frontier Investment Banking, Mr. Trysla served as a Principal of a regional investment banking firm, where he led the Manufacturing, Distribution and Business Services practice group, providing mergers and acquisitions, corporate finance, and financial advisory services. He has initiated and consummated mergers, acquisitions, sales, divestitures, recapitalizations and financings across a broad range of industries.

Prior to becoming an investment banker, Mr. Trysla practiced corporate law, specializing in mergers, acquisitions and sale/divestitures of businesses and in corporate finance with the law firms of Linde, Thomson, Langworthy, Kohn & Van Dyke, P.C., Bryan Cave, LLP, and Husch & Eppenberger, LLC, where he chaired the Corporate Practice group of the Kansas City office and served on that firm's Management Committee.

Mr. Trysla holds a BS in Business Administration and a Juris Doctorate Degree, both with highest distinction, from the University of Nebraska.
